Labor Council Cracks Down On Racketeers

Leaders Order Hearings For Three Unions

UNITY HOUSE — AFL-CIO executive council voted yesterday to admit a new union and, in the same morning session, began a cleanup of racketeering in three of its small member unions.

The new union is the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen. It has about 96,000 members. Until yesterday it had never been a part of a large-scale union organization but had operated throughout its entire history as an independent union.

Action taken by the council yesterday orders the Distillery, Rectifying and Wine Workers International Union (25,000 members) to "show cause" why it should not be suspended.

Reason for suspension would be a series of alleged acceptances of bribes and other grafts by officers of the union and its welfare fund.

Invited To Appear

At a press conference following the closed session of the council, George Meany, AFL-CIO president, explained that the action does not mean automatic suspension. He said it had been recommended by the ethical practices committee of the council, headed by David Dubinsky in the absence of Al Hayes, committee chairman. The union will be invited to appear before the committee to "show cause" why the action should not be taken, he said.

Two other unions — Allied Industrial Workers of America (73,000 workers) and the Laundry Workers International Union (72,000 workers) — were notified that they are to be the subjects of a formal investigation by the committee on charges of "corrupt influences."

The most newsworthy development to come out of yesterday morning's session was the approval of the Firemen's union application for membership.

Basic reason for this is a matter of policy.

Since its inception the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen has banned negroes from membership. This ban is specified in the constitution and by-laws of the union.

The combined AFL-CIO constitution, however, has a definite and definitive anti-bias clause which prohibits discrimination against a prospective union member due to color or national origin.

No Change

This apparent conflict in intent was minimized by Meany at the press conference.

Asked by reporters if this clause in the union's contract had been changed, he said it had not. He said, however, that, by admitting the union to the large group the AFL-CIO hoped that a change could be evolved eventually.

The vote to admit the union carried unanimously, he said. There was only one negative vote cast. This was by A. Philip Randolph, president of the porters' union, a member of the council. There were no abstentions from voting. Meany said.

Ratifies Contract

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Aug. 27 (UPI) — The AFL-CIO Insurance Workers Union announced today it had ratified a new contract with the Home Life Insurance Co. of America to end a 119-day strike affecting 376 agents in Pennsylvania and Delaware.

Nurse Admits Beating, Shaking 3 Babies To Death When They Got On Her Nerves

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 27 (UPI) — A pediatric nurse who said children sometimes "get on my nerves" admitted today she beat or shook three infants to death, the county coroner reported.

Coroner James J. Corrigan said the 6-foot, 260-pound woman also admitted injuring two others. She broke the leg of a three-month-old girl last year, Corrigan said.

Virginia B. Jaspers, 33, daughter of a former state senator and New Haven Railroad official, was taken into custody today after a medical examiner's investigation allegedly showed an 11-day-old girl died last Thursday under "suspicious circumstances."

Police Chief Francis V. McManus quoted Miss Jaspers as saying she shook the baby so violently it died. She said she did it because the infant would not

Meany Is Standout Among Men, Reporter Writes After Conference

By Leonard Randolph

UNITY HOUSE — To George Meany in modern America is to be as one with Elvis Presley, Dwight Eisenhower, Marilyn Monroe or the late Jimmy Dean.

If you are George Meany you are always at the center of The Crowd. And The Crowd is always filled with raucous voices wanting to know about you because you are George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, man among men, man with a purpose.

Yesterday at Unity House, George Meany sat in closed session with the remaining 22 members of the AFL-CIO executive council. The meeting was held in the lounge on the second floor of the main administration building at this giant, sprawling universe owned and maintained for Summer purposes by the International Ladies Garment Workers Union.

Familiar Setting

The doors closed on the council shortly after 10 a.m. They opened infrequently from then until a quarter to one. Most of the time the doors disgorged nothing save the head of a public relations man, coming to spread the word to the waiting army of hungry reporters that "it'll only be a few minutes now."

Most of the reporters were old hands at waiting for George. Since the inception of the combined

AFL-CIO last year, they had sat in waiting rooms and hung around outside meeting halls numbers hours watching for the sign in the wind.

When the doors opened, the rest of the council walked hurriedly through the door. They looked like men with a purpose, their eyes set on the faces coming to meet them, but somehow beyond. Lunch was being served downstairs.

Inside the conference room, David Dubinsky and some of the other union officials helped George Meany clear a space before him on the table. Sheaves of papers—giant pockets full of them, like a teacher's briefcase on the day of semester exams—were engrossed in leather and brownpaper envelopes.

MEANY MEETS THE PRESS — At Unity House yesterday George Meany, seated at table here, with cigar, held a press conference to go through actions taken by AFL-CIO executive council yesterday morning. Press parley shed light on inter-union business matters; brought reporters no closer to $64,000 question: Whither labor in the coming campaign? (Staff Photo by Randolph)

Adlai Pledges Democrats To Talk Sense In Campaign

SANTA FE, N. M., Aug. 27 (UPI) — Adlai Stevenson kicked off the Democratic presidential campaign today to a colorful, if unheralded, start in a blazing sun in Santa Fe Plaza where he dedicated the ticket to meeting "the wants of the people."

And, in a subsequent closed-door conference with Democratic leaders he pledged that he and his running mate, Sen. Estes Kefauver, "will talk sense—and drive it home while the Republicans drive their bikes and their bandwagons."

In the closed-door speech, made public by his new press secretary, Clayton Fritchey, Stevenson made no bones about the fact that the Democrats "have a mansized job on our hands this fall."

"We will talk about the issues; but we will listen as well as talk—and we are starting here and now to listen in these precampaign meetings around the country to the people who really run this country—the Joe Smiths."

Film Censor Dies
MEMPHIS, Aug. 27 (UPI) — Lloyd T. Binford, 89, long regarded by the movie industry as the nation's toughest censor, died in a nursing home today.

Crowds estimated by police from 5,000 to 8,000, some in Mexican, some in Indian costumes, gave Stevenson and Kefauver a shouting campaign inaugural when they flew here from Chicago on the first lap of a 7,000-mile grass roots trip to lay the groundwork for day and night campaigning.

Retired DL&W Worker Dies After Illness

ANDREW MICKEY. 54, of 190 Meyers St., East Stroudsburg, died at 4:40 p.m. yesterday at General Hospital. He had been in failing health for the last five years, and his condition became serious about three months ago.

He had been a resident of East Stroudsburg for the last 40 years. He was a member of St. Matthew's Catholic Church, East Stroudsburg, and was employed by the DL&W Railroad for 30 years, prior to his retirement five years ago. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees.

Mr. Mickey was the son of the late George and Anna Ganeck Mickey of Czechoslovakia. He is survived by two brothers, Charles Mickey, Stroudsburg; George Mickey, East Stroudsburg; five sisters, Mrs. Mary Sheerer, East Stroudsburg; Mrs. Julia Walters, Reading; Mrs. Anna Payton, Geneva, N.Y.; Miss Sarah Mickey, Stroudsburg, and Mrs. Helen Allen, Washington, Pa.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 9:30 a.m. from St. Matthew's Church with Rev. Harold G. Durkin officiating. Burial will be in the Gates of Heaven section of Laurelwood Cemetery, Stroudsburg.

Friends may call at the Lanterman funeral home Wednesday from 7-9 p.m. Rosary services will be held here at 8 p.m.

Rites Honor Kenneth Allen

THE FUNERAL of Kenneth Lawson Allen, 21, of 125 Barnum St., East Stroudsburg, was held at the Lanterman funeral home yesterday morning. Rosary services were conducted there at 9:30 a.m. by Rev. Francis Barrett. Burial was in the Gates of Heaven Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Richard Notz, Howard Williams, Samuel Occhipinti, John DeLorenzo, Robert Severe and Richard Titus.

Memorial services were held at the graveside by the Monroe County Joint Memorial Committee. Commander was Raymond LaBar. Chaplain was Howard Mount; and Morton Cracolici was the bugler.

Honor guard was composed of Rudolph Blitz, Sr. and Foster Gould. Flag holders were Foster Gould and Henry Walp. Flag presentation was by Foster Gould. The firing squad was composed of Sgt. George Freeman, and Sgt. Charles Jonathonson, Bernard Thomas, Ronald LaBar and Claude Mader.

Prices Dip; Session Slow

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (UPI)—The stock market had its quietest session in six months today as prices declined to interrupt a two-day advance.

The downturn was on a broad front, with numerous pivotal issues off from 1 to 2 points.

Volume of 1,420,000 shares matched the record low turnover for 1956 set on Feb. 13. This compared with the trading of 1,530,000 shares last Friday, and with the average of around 2,000,000 shares a day during an eight-week summer rise.

Brokers said they knew of no special news to influence investors. They pointed out that it is traditional for the market to turn sluggish in August when the vacation season is at its peak. They also said it is fairly common for prices to drift lower before Labor Day as traders lighten their holdings over the three-day weekend.

Down $1.10

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped $1.10 to $184.50, with the industrials off $1.70, rails $1.30 and utilities 10 cents. The average had been unchanged at midday.

Prices were higher at the start, then sagged gradually as the day wore on. Many stocks were at their lows at the close.

Losses were most pronounced in chemicals, metals and rails.

George Meany Takes Charge At Conference

Not all of the reporters were obsessed by this. To some of the men in the room, labor columnists who dig for hard facts day after day and seldom make the front pages, the important business at hand was precisely what George Meany was discussing. But eventually the talk got around to politics. And when it did, George Meany listened to it in unsmiling silence and did not seem to savor the answer he gave.

The Republicans had been playing up some of Meany's statements, made about a year ago, the reporter said. Like the statement attributed to him that the "Eisenhower administration is friendly to labor." He had denied making that one, George Meany said, and didn't believe it.

And now about the statement that "American labor is better off today than it has ever been before," the same reporter asked. George Meany said he still believed that and he'd say it again. "But I don't think it has anything to do with the Republican party," he said.

There was a buzz of appreciative laughter around the room.

No Agenda

How about the matter of endorsement of a political ticket? When did Mr. Meany think the council would get around to that? What position did that occupy on the agenda? Had it been discussed this morning?

There is no agenda, George Meany said, and his voice was a little sharp again. We certainly will discuss it, he went on, but I can't say when. It'll be while we're here.

He had one other announcement, Meany said. The council had agreed to raise $25,000 to help the victims of the recent Puerto Rican flood.

Then one of the men to Meany's left said: "What the matter, George. You getting hungry?"

George Meany laughed heartily at that and said yes and got up from the table. A couple of reporters made hasty notes. Another flashbulb exploded, sending its curious, flat brilliance across half of the room.

Dave Dubinsky headed for a telephone booth in the corridor to call long distance and tell the world that the AFL-CIO council was going to help the Puerto Ricans. "George Meany just announced it," he shouted into the phone.

George Meany moved out into the hallway, walking briskly, looking almost straight ahead. Most of the men who came out of the room were smiling and talking. But they had a reason. They were at Unity House as observers, watching to see where the political current would go. It was their business to ask questions and listen. And one of the men they had to question was George Meany.

He walked away from them.

Asthma Formula Prescribed Most By Doctors—Available Now Without Prescription

Stops Attacks in Minutes...Relief Lasts for Hours!

New York, N.Y. (UPI)—The asthma formula prescribed more than any other by doctors for their patients is now available to asthma sufferers without prescription.

Medical tests proved this formula stops asthma attacks in minutes and gives hours of freedom from recurrent attacks of asthma.

This formula is so effective that it is the physicians' leading asthma prescription—so safe that it can be sold—with-out prescription—in tiny tablets called Primatene®.

Viewing the Screens

THE ART LINKLETTER "House Party" from Hollywood is a good program for relaxing at 2:30 p.m. on Ch. 2 and 10. Guest stars and audience participation help make it a half hour of fun.

A situation comedy series at 5 on Ch. 3 and 4 stars Janice Page and centers around the everyday troubles and laughs between her and her small daughter.

Mabel Spooner makes a valiant effort to become a singer, to the utter confusion of her boy friend, Joe, in "Mabel's Voice" on the comedy series "Joe and Mabel" at 9 p.m. on Ch. 2 and 10.

M/Sgt. Ernie Bilko and his girl friend M/Sgt. Joan Hogan leave for Manhattan, after telling each other they're going elsewhere, on the Phil Silvers' Show "You'll Never Get Rich" at 8 on Ch. 2 and 10. Bilko tries to get a date from an out-dated address book, while Joan has her friends trying to round up a date for her. It's a riot when Bilko, by mistake, enters the YWCA and ends up sitting next to the unsuspecting Joan in the steam room.

On the concert program at 8:30 on Ch. 6 and 7 guest stars will include young opera singers Dolores Wilson and Theodor Uppman. Also appearing will be a 16-year-old Korean pianist, Tong Il Han, who was discovered by the Fifth Air Force in Seoul in 1952.

The entire staff of the association will attend the Association of Secretaries' Conference which will be held at Penn Hall School, Chambersburg, beginning and continuing until Wednesday, Sept. 5.

Pfc. Gearhart Participating In Maneuver

ARMY Pfc. Donald E. Gearhart, son of Mrs. Mary Gearhart, Swiftwater, is participating in "Exercise Cold Spot" at Camp Hale, Colo.

The two-month exercise is providing individual and unit training in mountain and cold-weather warfare at two-mile-high Hale, subpost of Fort Carson.

Gearhart, a construction specialist in Company C of the 1st Infantry Division's 1st Engineer Battalion, will return to Fort Riley, Kan., after the exercise ends in late September.

The 20-year-old soldier entered the Army in June 1955 and received basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

YMCA Places Lost Articles On Display

LOST AND FOUND clothing and other articles which have been turned in at the office of the Monroe County YMCA will be on display for the balance of the week from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. These articles are in good condition (many of them almost new) and can be reclaimed by the owner by calling for them during the above hours.

The one-man art exhibit by Mrs. Gertrude Roberts Rugh will be on display each day throughout the week and will continue over Labor Day. The exhibit will be open on Sunday, Sept. 2.

The entire staff of the association will attend the Association of Secretaries' Conference which will be held at Penn Hall School, Chambersburg, beginning and continuing until Wednesday, Sept. 5.

West End Fair Scheduled Tomorrow At Gilbert Grounds

Most Exhibits To Be Placed By Tonight

GILBERT—Music will speed the work of setting up the exhibits for the West End Fair tomorrow. The Monroe County Band is scheduled to play tonight when all exhibits except livestock, must be entered before 8 p.m.

The road to the West End Fairgrounds will be a busy one today for the exhibitors. The road itself leading into the fairgrounds has been given a black top surface which extends all the way into the grove itself this year, fair officials said last night.

These officials with Maurice Kresge, president; Lloyd Mackie, vice president; Edward Doney, secretary; LeRoy Hinton, assistant; and Arlington D. Smith, treasurer, have been working all year on arrangements with the committees and directors. Many of them were at the fairgrounds last night to make last-minute arrangements.

Livestock Exhibit

Two large sheds for cattle and vocational agriculture exhibits will provide the latest improvement for the comfort and protection of the stock. Two large exhibition buildings will provide space for exhibits and displays and the big dining room will again be prepared to serve sauerkraut and all the fixings of a West End dinner. The concessions at one end of the grove will again provide rides and other amusement.

A new feature this year will be the 4-H Club tractor-driving contest. The boys will compete in maintenance and efficiency as well as in actual operation of the tractors over an obstacle course. The contest is scheduled for 2 p.m. Wednesday, directed by Robert Stauffer, assistant county agent, with awards for the winners provided by the Fair association.

The association will also provide "premiums" in all of the various classifications for livestock, fancy-work, food, flowers, fruit and garden produce. In addition to the individual entries, there will be group displays by Grangers, and high school vocational agriculture and homemaking classes.

Fort Augusta Date Marked At Sunbury

SUNBURY, Pa., Aug. 27 (P)—Special services in community churches Sunday opened the 200th anniversary celebration of the founding of Fort Augusta.

The "Religious Observance Day" officially kicked off the four-day event which will feature historical displays, band concerts, Indian ceremonial dances and addresses by state, federal and military officials.

The fort was established in 1756 to protect the Susquehanna Valley from invasion during the French and Indian War and was later used to protect settlers in the region.

Highlight of the celebration will be a scheduled address Wednesday by Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, chief of research and development for the U.S. Army in Washington, D.C., and a native of Mount Carmel.

A cast of more than 100 area residents will present a bi-centennial drama, "Augusta, Fortress Invincible," tomorrow, Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

The celebration will end with a military parade Wednesday night with Army, Marine, Air Force and Navy personnel wearing costumes dating back to colonial times.

Nixon Returns To Capital To Map Campaign Strategy

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (P)—Vice President Nixon flew back to Washington today from the bedside of his ailing father to map strategy for his re-election campaign.

Nixon told newsmen who met him and his family at National Airport that he would go to his office during the afternoon to confer on campaign plans with officials of the Republican National Committee.

He did not appear at the office during the day, however, and aides said they believed he had spent the day at home.

Nixon arrived here with his wife and their two daughters, Patricia, 10, and Julie, 8, after an overnight flight from Los Angeles.

May Return

He told newsmen he would return at once to the family home at Whittier, Calif., should his father, Frank Nixon, 77, take a turn for the worse in his recovery from an abdominal hemorrhage.

The elder Nixon's doctor reported his condition remained unchanged today.

Speaking of the campaign on his arrival, Nixon said, "All in all it looks like a good fight with the administration winning."

He described the Democratic ticket of Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee as "good men" well qualified to present the issues from the Democratic viewpoint.

Pennsylvania One Of Four States With No Civilian Absentee Ballot

The residents of Washington, D. C., get no vote in the presidential election next November. But many of them who maintain a legal residence elsewhere in the country will be able to vote there, either in person or by absentee ballot.

The Republican Party, wishing to miss no votes, has organized an Absentee Voters Bureau in Washington to help get out an estimated 200,000 absentee voters ballots there. They find that residents of 42 states who are living and working in Washington can vote by absentee ballot.

Four of the 48 states—Pennsylvania included—have no absentee ballots for civilian voters. Two others have absentee ballots only for voters who are within the state on election day.

Why is Pennsylvania among the small number of states which still retains a conservative attitude toward absentee ballots?

The answer probably can be put in one word—inertia. We never had it before, so we don't have it now. As a matter of simple justice, we gave men and women in military service the right to vote by absentee ballot, which we call a military ballot. But we never got around to extending the same privilege to others who find it necessary to be away from home on election day.

Politicians probably wouldn't be eager to push an absentee ballot for civilians. The absentee vote isn't easy to influence or control and it injects an element of uncertainty into election calculations. If we ever get an absentee ballot like that in effect in most of the states, it will be because the voters themselves, through their civic organizations, demand it loudly enough to make the Legislature hear.

Swift Punishment Should Be Dealt Weinberger Baby's Ruthless Kidnaper

There will be universal satisfaction that the painstaking work of the FBI and Nassau County, N. Y., police finally turned up the despicable kidnapper of the infant Peter Weinberger.

But what a sorry tale is thereby told! A married man, with a home and children of his own just five miles away from the scene of the kidnapping, head over heels in debt, decided to take that means of getting money. No mercy for the child or the parents, no responsibility to society—just a quick, selfish grab to get what he wanted.

It will be good to rid society of such a man as this—for certainly he has forfeited any claim to mercy. It will be good, also, to furnish an example here of what the law can do to those who kidnap and kill to satisfy their own greed.

But how do we protect ourselves against such pitiless crimes? This will not be—alas—the last kidnapping, although it may serve as a deterrent if Angelo John LaMarca, the confessed kidnapper, is given his just deserts.

Prompt action and sure punishment are our best weapons against those weaklings in our society who seek the easy way of crime to extort the money of others. And a capable police force is the best way to provide this protection.

The Weinberger kidnapping more than ever indicates the advisability of permitting the FBI to act in such cases. At present, the FBI jurisdiction is limited to interstate kidnaps, and that agency can enter a case after a period of delay, on the theory that a state line may have been crossed in that period.

With its nation-wide experience and superior facilities, the FBI could greatly help in the investigation of such crimes as this if its agents were permitted to enter the cases at the very start, when the trail is fresh.

Evading Tax Share Through Foreign Fund Throws Heavier Burden On Those Who Pay

I was reading a circular of an American-Canadian investment fund which are proliferating like rabbits, when I came across this paragraph relating to the primary objective for the fund:

"to operate in such a way that the shareholders will incur only minimum taxes and the Fund will incur no United States tax liability and only relatively small tax liability to Canada and other countries."

It has been suggested to me that there is nothing wrong in thinking up a gimmick to save money on taxes. Of course, there is nothing morally or legally wrong with that, except that when the rest of us have to carry a heavy load because we earn wages, we are not excited about those who are able to shift the load from themselves to us. If a tax is to be socially right, it should be equally collected. If those who possess reservoirs of capital can shift their funds to Canada or Liberia or Panama or wherever and thus avoid paying an equal tax with other citizens, it can only mean that the others have to pay more.

I do not mention the name of this particular fund, first, because I am not advertising it for prospective investors and secondly because there are many such funds and they are all pretty much alike. I have its brochure before me and this paragraph is particularly interesting:

"The Fund intends so to conduct its affairs that it will incur

no tax liability to the United States, since it does not intend (1) to engage in trade or business in the United States within the meaning of the United States Internal Revenue Code, (2) to have the United States within the permanent establishment in meaning of the tax treaty between the United States and Canada or (3) to have any income arising from sources within the United States which would be subject to United States taxes."

The Government of the United States has very little information on the movement of money in and out of the country. A statement prepared by M. Joseph Meehan, Director, Office of Business Economics of the U. S. Department of Commerce, before the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security, contained these paragraphs which are a realistic appraisal of the situation:

"Our present sources of information on the acquisition and sale by foreigners of controlling interests in United States companies are incomplete. Withholding tax records apply only to enterprises paying dividends to foreign residents."

"When purchase or sales are deliberately concealed, we would have no means to discover them. Moreover, even when we know that an enterprise is wholly or partially controlled by foreign interests our questionnaires are not always answered."

Walther Lederer, Chief of the Balance of Payments Division of the Department of Commerce, estimated that the minimum foreign investment in American industry is $11,000,000,000. Chairman Armstrong of the SEC had put the figure at $26,000,000,000.

Loretta Kise Is Married In Blairstown

Portland — Miss Loretta Joan Kise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest E. Kise of Columbia, became the bride of Kenneth Dale Sprague, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Sprague of Blairstown RD 2 on Saturday in the Blairstown Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Neil F. Bintz, pastor of the Blairstown Methodist Church, officiated. A reception followed in the Blairstown Legion Post home.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Donald R. Smith, as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Bruce VanSickle and Miss Marilyn Huff. Sherry Woolf, cousin of the bride, acted as flower girl.

Donald R. Smith, brother-in-law of the bride, served as best man. James Sprague, brother of the bridegroom, and David Stanton were ushers and David McConachy was ring bearer.

The bride wore a chiffon and lace gown and a fingertip veil of lace held by a headpiece trimmed with pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations with an orchid.

The matron of honor was dressed in a powder blue nylon and lace gown while the bridesmaids were in rose and nile green embroidered nylon and net. They wore headpieces of yellow flowers and carried carnations. The flower girl wore a dress and hat of white nylon and taffeta and carried yellow carnations.

The couple will reside with the bride's parents. Mrs. Sprague was graduated from Blairstown High School and is employed by the Payne Cutlery Co. Her husband attended the same high school and is employed by the Oxford Textile Finishing Co., Inc.

Reservations Due for Trip To Bronx Gardens

The Monroe County Garden Club members are reminded that their reservations for the scheduled trip to the Bronx Botanical Gardens, New York, are due September 4.

The trip itself will be held on Thursday, September 20, and will be made by chartered bus. The bus will leave at 8:30 in the morning and will be available throughout the day to drive club members from one exhibit to the other. Some members are planning to pack a lunch, and there is a restaurant on the grounds for those who wish to buy it.

Reservations should be made with Mrs. Edward Knob by next Tuesday.

Benefit Tonight

Barrett — A game party will be held tonight at St. Ann's Church, Canadensis, at 8:30 p.m. Features will be refreshments, door prizes and surprise packages.

Old-fashioned test for deep-fat frying is still good if you haven't a thermometer. If a cube of bread turns golden-brown in one minute after it's dropped into the hot fat, you have the right temperature for frying raw foods.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Ever realize how many times a day you run up and downstairs? Well, just try varnishing the stairs and you'll realize how many times you do it without thinking. There was quite a debate about whether it was better to do every other step or half of each step at once. The half-way measure won.

Which is all right, except the half sort of shrunk to a quarter — and you just try carrying an armload of laundry upstairs when there's only room for one foot. Though I'll have to admit it was simpler than watching somebody else trying to come down with a string bass.

You never miss the water till the well runs dry is a mighty true adage. There ought to be one about one blunder leads to another, or something. The reason we had to varnish the steps was because of spilling paint on them, and now we've got varnish on the paint which means we'll have to retouch up the painting which means we'll get more paint spots on the varnish and so on ad infinitum ad nauseum.

It reminds me of those old oatmeal packages with the woman holding a package of oatmeal on which there was a picture of a woman holding a package of oatmeal on which — You remember how it kept getting smaller and smaller and smaller and you could get so hypnotized that you felt as if you were in a sort of whirlpool into infinity.

I have some sort of the same feeling about our stairs. Though eventually if we get on enough layers I suppose we'll have us a ramp and not have to walk down at all — just coast.

Nancy Hahn Is Bride Of M. M. Meckes

Miss Nancy Hahn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hahn, Palmerston, and Melvin M. Meckes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Meckes, Kunkletown, were married on Aug. 18, in the St. Matthew's Union Church, Kunkletown. The Rev. Robinson officiated.

The bride's father gave her in marriage. She was attended by Miss Gladys Hahn as maid of honor, and Misses Sandra Frantz and JoAnne Holtecz as bridesmaids.

Asher Smith was best man. Guests were ushered by Oscar Beck and Ernest Frantz.

The reception took place at the East Penn Sporting Club, West Bowmanstown. They will reside at RD 1, Palmerston.

The bride attended Palmerston High School. Her husband, a Polk Township High School graduate, is employed by R. & R. Toy Factory, Pen Argyl.

Hiking Trip Through Norway For Local Girl

Miss Helen Donaldson of Timber Hill Farm, Cresco, and a senior at Penbrook College, is now on a hiking trip through Norway with a group of Norwegian and American students as part of their summer Experiment in International Living.

Sognsfjellhytta, Norway . . .

We left Oslo last Thursday, by train to Elsdvoll and then by a 100-year-old boat to Lillehammar. The boat was 100 years old that day so a salute of cannons was fired at each town.

Lillehammar is a quaint little place built on a hill. We stayed in a Youth Hostel above the town and that night I went into town with several others to a charming open-air restaurant which was down below the street level, its walls covered by a bright orange flowered vine. It had a minute orchestra, too, and a dance floor.

The next day, we wandered around town — more ski sweater shopping! I think I may have to get one, too — they're so good-looking. We visited another open-air museum of the old farmhouses. This time we saw the church, which is still used for services.

In the afternoon, we went by bus over an exceeding narrow mountain road through beautiful hilly farm country to Sikkilsdalseter, which was really in the mountains. We stayed at a hut run by the Den Norsk Turistforening (similar to the Appalachian Mountain Club) which maintains quite nice places throughout the mountains. No electricity, plumbing, heat or running water, but candles, wood stoves, drying rooms, and showers occasionally. This particular one was situated in bleak and barren mountains and it was very cold when we got there.

You never miss the water till the well runs dry is a mighty true adage. There ought to be one about one blunder leads to another, or something. The reason we had to varnish the steps was because of spilling paint on them, and now we've got varnish on the paint which means we'll have to retouch up the painting which means we'll get more paint spots on the varnish and so on ad infinitum ad nauseum.

It reminds me of those old oatmeal packages with the woman holding a package of oatmeal on which there was a picture of a woman holding a package of oatmeal on which —

But they are so ugly that they are almost beautiful. Certainly they are big and rugged, and have a kind of majesty.

Wild Life Nursery Run By Housewife

By EARL ARONSON

Gray, Maine, (AP)—Hundreds of wild animals owe their lives to Mrs. James F. Maxwell.

Mrs. Maxwell is the wife of the assistant superintendent at the Dry Mills State Game Farm. Supt. John Bentley says he does not know what the staff would do without her.

"The men are all too busy with the 25,000 pheasants we breed and the larger animals to tend the very young animals. We'd just have had to turn them away."

Mrs. Maxwell says she always loved animals. "But until we came here 11 years ago," she says, "my only pets had been dogs and cats. When the first fawn was brought in I soon changed my interests to the wild animals."

Most of the wild animals become tame under Mrs. Maxwell's guidance. After a maximum of four years on the farm the creatures are placed in zoos or on private game farms.

Last spring Mrs. Maxwell had four orphaned bear cubs brought to her. They were 3-4 months old. A bit old for bottle feeding, these youngsters were put on a formula and are thriving.

"They are so much fun to watch," she relates, "and if I don't train myself I sit and watch them play for hours."

The bears are housed in a big pen. Mrs. Maxwell treats them like puppies, except that she wears gloves because of their sharp teeth and claws.

A young porcupine also is in residence at the game farm. He refused to eat at first but Mrs. Maxwell forced food down his throat with a syringe. Soon it accepted a bottle. The contents was similar to a baby's formula — canned milk, lime water and syrup.

The same preparation is used for deer. About 15 baby deer is average for a season. Some of them stray to the game farm, some are injured, others are found in the woods, alone because their mothers have been shot or killed by other animals.

Several years ago a fisher was brought in. Experts said it would not live in captivity. But the fisher is a healthy fellow, the product of the same loving care Mrs. Maxwell gives other animals.

In Mrs. Maxwell's kitchen is a sparrow, brought in after it fell from a nest. It was kept in a strawberry box full of hay. Feeding it was a problem until Mrs. Maxwell remembered that mother birds dropped things into the mouth of their young.

So Mrs. Maxwell put a little bread and milk on the end of a finger and poked it down the sparrow's throat. It caught on fast, and now it sings like a canary, says Mrs. Maxwell.

For Supper, Cards

The 8 et 40 of the American Legion Auxiliary met on Thursday night, August 23 at 6:30 at the home of Mrs. William Ransberger, Shawnee. A picnic supper was served on the lawn with a large turnout of members.

Chapeau Lydia Christensen presided at the brief business meeting after supper. The next meeting of the salon will be held at the home of Mrs. Rose Everett, Canadensis.

Members then played cards with coffee and cake served at the end of the social time when the birthdays of LuLu Miller, Lydia Christensen and Ida Dennis were observed.

Forecast: Showers For Miss Coleman

Miss Maricarole Coleman, whose engagement to John Meunier, WVPO radio announcer, was recently announced was the guest of honor at a personal shower given by Miss Joan Dowling and Miss Jane Kennedy at the home of Mrs. Walter Dowling.

A life-size sign portraying a man at a microphone presided over the gifts, while a banner read "Weather Forecast: Showers."

Guests included Rose Paula Kennedy, Mrs. Paul Kennedy, Mrs. John Bachman, Mrs. Charles McCarthy, Mrs. Kent Miller, Miss Betty Ann Woolever, Miss Patsy Farber, Miss Bertha Learm, Mrs. Walter Smith, Miss Helen Stacey, Mrs. Earland Clark, Miss Mary Vogt, Mrs. Harry Ahnert Jr., Miss Mollie Fahringer, Miss Patricia Tarr, Mrs. James Coleman, Mrs. Loretta Dowling and Miss Suzanne Coleman.

Also sending gifts were Miss Peggy Collins, Miss Mary Ann Collins, Mrs. Thomas Collins, Miss Sarah Smith, Mrs. Lulu Harvey, Mrs. Harry Ahnert Sr., Mrs. Robert Ahnert, Miss Helen Fahringer, Mrs. Arnold Eyer, Mrs. Margie Schmidt and Mrs. Florence Berry.

M. F. Weiss Company Installs Large Number Of Bethlehem Dynatherm Units In County

M. F. WEISS of the M. F. Weiss Plumbing and Heating Co., Brodheadsville, says, "You can pay more, but you can't buy better heating units than a Bethlehem Dynatherm is the heating boiler for your present or new home."

M. F. Weiss over the years has installed thousands of heating units in homes in and around Monroe County and a good many Dynatherm heating boilers, and Mr. Weiss can tell you why. "You'll get more heat from less oil! When you invest your hard-earned money in a heating plant, you want to be sure it's large enough to provide all the heat you need to keep your home comfortable in the coldest weather . . . that it's modern in design . . . that it's fully automatic . . . that it operates economically . . . that it will require the least personal attention and a minimum of service.

Mr. Weiss further states that you can replace your present boiler for as little as $5.50 a week. That's one first-class installation, complete—nothing extra to buy! And, Mr. Weiss adds that he can almost guarantee that you will save this much money on the cost of oil alone. For further proof of this M. F. Weiss Plumbing & Heating will furnish you with the names of families and neighbors that can verify this fact! What more proof do you need than this to convince you that a Bethlehem Dynatherm is the heating boiler for your present or new home.

If you have any plumbing or heating problems call M. F. Weiss for expert professional advice that costs you nothing . . . he promises that you'll be money ahead in the years to come.

Dramatone Color System On Display At Fetherman's

WITH GLIDDEN Paint Company's new "Dramatone" color system you can color-style your rooms from walls and woodwork to carpets and draperies.

You see the Dramatone color system at Fetherman's Paint Store, next to Pocono bridge, W. Main St.

Owner-manager Fred Fetherman points out that Dramatone is far more than a color selector. "It's a decorating system," he said, "utilizing 176 colors."

The Dramatone display rack holds pads of big, four-inch color chips. The larger size chips make color comparison easy.

Complete decorating information, applicable to the specific color of the color chip, is on the back. It gives you complete color-harmony help for carpeting and fabrics as well as paint.

Probably the best known Glidden product is Spred Satin. It outperforms all other paints because it goes on twice as fast and dries in only 20 minutes, Mr. Fetherman stated.

Use brush or roller, you get no brush or lap marks. You can touch up spots you miss; they won't show. Spred Satin has no unpleasant odor, no fumes. Brush or roller washes in water, no turpentine or other extras to buy.

And Spred Satin is durable, so washable you won't need to paint again until you want to change colors.

Requirements To Be Grouped

WHEN REPOTTING house plants, those which have similar soil requirements should be grouped together. The majority prefer a general potting mixture of two parts soil from the compost heap, one part sand.

Ferns, begonias, African Violets and Christmas and orchid cactus need an extra part of leaf-mold; other cacti and succulents, another part of sand. Plant food or cow manure is added.

Common Sense To Rule New Loyalty Plan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Pentagon is preparing specific guidelines to promote "common sense" conclusions in screening the loyalty and security of individuals before they enter military service.

The guidelines will be distributed to all officials handling security investigations before the armed services start using a new security questionnaire on Nov. 1. Secretary of Defense Wilson proclaimed the "common sense" approach last year when he announced that security checks would be completed before, rather than after, a man was drafted or volunteered for military duty. Wilson followed this up on June 19 with a directive ordering a uniform security procedure for all the military services.

In that directive, Wilson said the ultimate decision on accepting or retaining a person in the armed forces "must be an overall common sense determination based on all available information."

Questionnaire Revised

Following this approach, the Defense Department on July 12 distributed a revised security questionnaire which will replace the old "loyalty certificate" Nov. 1.

The new questionnaire contains the same list of organizations designated by the attorney general as being subversive. But the new questionnaire differs from the old certificate in that it explains fully and in simple language the reasons why the armed forces require all of their members to be "reliable, trustworthy, of good character, and of complete and unswerving loyalty" to the United States.

The old certificate, in a brief introduction to the list of subversive organizations, stated the same things, but in formal, legal language.

The new questionnaire says, for instance, that membership in one of the forbidden organizations "may not, of itself," make a person ineligible for military service. Both the old and new papers permit a military service candidate to claim the Fifth Amendment protection against possible self-incrimination in refusing to give information.

Lie Given To Togo's Claim Of Starting War In Pacific

By J. M. Roberts
Associated Press News Analyst

Every now and then someone tries to sell the idea that it was the United States, not Japan, which set off the Pacific phase of World War II.

Yet the record is clear that the United States was not prepared for war in the Pacific when it started, and that for a long time it had to fight in that sector with its left hand—which would have been the case even without the loss of the ships at Pearl Harbor, because of the European situation.

Now comes the version of Shigenori Togo, 1941 foreign minister of Japan, in his posthumous memoirs. He died in a war criminal's cell. It is being published by U.S. News & World Report prior to issuance as a book by Simon and Schuster, Inc.

Togo took the general line, so often heard before, that Japan reacted to American pressure deliberately applied for the purpose of producing war.

Delaying Action

But at one point he wrote that President Roosevelt was "lying" to "baby" Japan along until the United States could get ready.

There he gets somewhat closer to the truth than on most points. The United States was indeed conducting a delaying action.

The United States had recognized its position in the Pacific by the fall of 1941, and was preparing to stand across the path of Japan in a posture much similar to that which she now takes toward Communist China. She was not willing to let Japan expand in Southeast Asia at will.

But Japan made up her mind early in October that she would not stand still. On Oct. 18 the peace-seeking members of her could not avoid war.

The record is too clear as to what happened.

The groundwork for confusion had been laid, however, and American writers have preceded Togo in discussing it.

Secretary of State Hull and President Roosevelt had long been aware that there was almost no chance that the United States could avoid war with the Axis indefinitely.

One of their problems was to

Swim Classes Concluded At Pen Argyl

PEN ARGYL—In spite of the rain and cold weather the Easton Chapter of the American Red Cross held swimming classes at Weona Park this past week.

The course ends the instructions for the summer at Weona Park, but a junior and senior life saving course will be held this week at both Kittatinny Beach in New Jersey and Cortez' Pool at Wind Gap. The course at Kittatinny Beach will be held from 1 to 4 and at Wind Gap from 5 to 7.

Instructors for the courses are Blaine Strunk of Pen Argyl and Barbara Edmonds of Wilson. Those passing the intermediate swimming course at Pen Argyl were Rita Buskirk, Albert Fedon, Elaine King, Sal Mondelle and Bruce Robenoid of Wind Gap; Aurelia Robertine of Bangor; and Danielle Rossigno, Susan May, Nancy Hilliard, William Edwards, Kim Edwards, Kenneth Dawe, Ann Tocket, Kaye Strunk, Fred Sauvain, Louise Roibero, Judy Piper, Jane Rebo, Theron Male and Carol Daly all of Pen Argyl. Those passing the beginner course were John Obrecht, George Woolsey, William Garrison, Elizabeth Miller, Leann Miller, Carol Powell, Keith Hinton, Joanne Rebo, Deanna Fedon, Stephen Zegalia, Nancy Burwell, Faith Farleigh, Marilyn Rondelli, Henry Rader.

The American Red Cross conducted classes at Weona Park for three weeks this summer during which a total of 167 children took instruction in either life-saving or swimming. The classes will again be offered next year at Pen Argyl.

TWO GRAND guys were honored by members of the Strouds baseball team at a banquet at Shawnee Country Club last night. The recipients of the accolades from every member of the regular season champion of the Pocono Mountain League were Tom Waring and Dr. John Lim.

Waring and Dr. Lim are no Johnny-come-latelys to the local sports scene, each having given a large share of their lives in the area to athletics. It is gratifying to see a few honor a deserving pair.

This writer would like to extend speedy recovery to Bob Stine, the injured East Stroudsburg High football player. And we know the same is extended from every follower of local sports.

Stine, a promising athlete, will be sidelined for the remainder of football season, but is expected to be ready to return to active participation in sports when baseball season rolls around.

Stine, as we have averred before, is one of the best catching prospects, we have laid eyes on in quite some time.

Arch Dally, the Barrett township bowling alley operator who is organizing a Major Pocono Mountain Bowling League, has instituted plans to run off elimination in order to get the best keggers manning his circuit.

Dally will hold a series of elimination tournaments to find "major-type" bowlers starting Sunday at the Barrett Bowling Center, Mountainhome. The first set of rollofs is scheduled to start at 7 p.m.

The Daily Record will be represented on the bowling lanes this season in a Saturday morning or Saturday afternoon circuit.

Led by Manager Floyd (Junior) Warner, the Record pin-setters will have Oscar (Speed) Stachey, Elmer (Lefty) Gougher, Ed Weber, Harold Steiner, Kenny (baseball encyclopedia) Barnes and Paul Cobb.

Warner plans to have several more reserves in case the others falter. The team is working out daily.

Scranton Opens Drills Sept. 1

SCRANTON—Director of Athletics and head football mentor, Pete Carlesimo, has announced that the pre-season training drills for the '56 Football Royals of the University of Scranton will begin September 1. The site for the practice sessions will be Weston Park here.

The biggest problem facing Carlesimo is depth. This, however, has been offset somewhat when in the spring workouts he stressed the importance of versatility on the squad, having each man become familiar with positions other than his own.

The spring drills proved a more than pleasant surprise when the boys proved that they could readily adapt themselves to another slot in the line-up with little difficulty.

Breaks Two Marks

Pen Argyl Gridders Resume Workouts On Heavy Scale

PEN ARGYL—Fifty-one candidates reported to Coach Rudolph "Rudy" Penza and his assistants Richard Wolford, Blaine Strunk, John Lakey and Harry Mervine as Pen Argyl High School resumed football practice sessions yesterday at Pen Argyl's Memorial Stadium at Wrona Park.

Candidates include veterans from last season Ronald Shipman, Dominic Bet and Samuel Lobb, quarterbacks; half backs Marlin Smickley, Richard Rumsey and Carl Bone; Linemen, Edward Luzzo, guard; Anthony Uliana, guard; Daniel Cappozello, tackle; and Gary Schegel at guard.

Changes Made

Coach Penza made the following changes with veterans James Sandcock and Robert Frutchey. Sandcock was moved from center to fullback and Frutchey from center to end. All these veterans are seniors and have been playing together since junior high school and should give the team a good boost. However, Coach Penza is not making any predictions.

The above will be augmented by William Ruggiero, Duane Toth, Buddy Zoncze, Mike Voles, Gary Stackhouse, and Kenneth Rebo all members of last years J. V. squad and have seen plenty of action.

Additional candidates departing were David Williams, Thomas Tocket, Edward LaBar, John Mariano, Carl Schlough, Martin Dulac, Robert Stampone, Gary Stackhouse, George Moyer, Arthur Edwards, Vern Hahn, Ronald Sheemaker, Louis Lugg, Ronald Sparrow, Richard Griffith, Carl Hess, Mike Cainazzo, Samuel Stump, Glenwood Davis and James Lakey, all of which are linemen.

Candidates for berths in the backfield are Kenneth Phillips, Harold Phillips, Steve Abbazzese, Ronald Guerro, Wilbur Lobb, Thomas Schnitzer, Duane Stofflet, William Falcone, Sunny Weider, Robert Savercool, and Robert Manini.

On prospects for the coming season, Coach Penza said that there is definitely a wealth of potential but the success or failure will be up to the boys. In general, the boys up to this date are working hard and have a good attitude and if this is maintained throughout the year, Pen Argyl could be a tough foe.

New Schools Plan Mapped By Authority

HARRISBURG, Aug. 27 (UPI)—The state Public School Building Authority, fresh from completion of a $12½ million dollar construction program, today readied another totaling $8 millions.

Russell C. Bartman, executive director, said applications on hand will keep the authority in full operation "at full speed," particularly since the Legislature lifted the old $25 million dollar ceiling on authority-financed construction.

"We are in a position to proceed—and are proceeding with all dispatch in this program to alleviate the classroom shortage in Pennsylvania," he told a newsman.

Bartman made the statement coincidently with the publication of its first printed report since the authority was created by the 1947 Legislature.

Boosted Ceiling

Its work was curtailed by the 1953 Legislature which imposed a $25 million dollar ceiling on authority-financed school construction subject to state aid.

The 1955-56 legislature boosted that ceiling to $25 million dollars over the next four years.

Bartman's report showed that the authority constructed 154 new schools and added classrooms to 82 others since it was organized.

It meant a total of 2,118 additional classrooms without counting a multiplicity of gymnasiums, auditoriums, laboratories and similar facilities.

These projects are apart from those built by municipality authorities—local borrow-and-build wealth.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

FOR THURSDAY, AUG. 28, 1956

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) A good inspirational period. Keep your wits about you, and your fertile brain busy, and things will turn out satisfactorily. Improvement is the keystone of today's success.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) Merely continue with the direct, concise method of doing things; do not sacrifice efficiency. Don't be sidetracked by the unnecessary or foolish. Much of value can be gained today.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini) Mercury's position indicates fine progress now. Mechanical tasks, music, science, the world of invention, worldwide hobbies, especially favored. A constant effort will be rewarded.

June 21 to July 20 (Cancer) Even though Cancer is in a somewhat dubious position, if you will maintain dignity, poise, concentration and use your ingenuity, your work will show great results.

July 21 to August 20 (Leo) The Sun's position indicates that this day can be spent by attending the schools of responsibility and the energies for which you are noted. Watch over ambitions, tendencies, however.

August 21 to September 20 (Virgo) A strong Mars in the sign of the excellent influences. Advances can be made in the fields of finance, advertising, shipping, manufacturing. Make the most of your opportunities.

September 21 to October 20 (Libra) Base your work and appraisals on fact, solid background, necessary or useful. Don't get wise to this regard; improvement will be forthcoming. Venus presages good opportunity.

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day if it is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your future. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more subtract 4. If the number is less than 6 add 3. The result is your keynumber. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Commandery To Elect New Officers

ELECTION of officers for the coming term will be held at the convocation of St. John's Commandery 186, Knights of Malta, tonight at 8, in the Malta Temple, Main St.

Every companion of the order is requested to be present and assist in selecting these officers. A full report of the committee arranging for the celebration of the 60th anniversary of the order in Stroudsburg; and the 50th anniversary of the building of the Malta Temple will be presented. Other important matters pertaining to the order will be acted upon.

Activities of the Commandery for the coming fall and winter months will be discussed, including a Boys' Night, and a memorial service for the departed companions. Also slated for discussion is the formation of a Junior Knights of Malta Organization. Many of these have been formed in various cities and have been found effective in bringing the younger boys into a Protestant fraternal order.

Elmer Learn Selected To Give Paper

BARTONSVILLE — Elmer Learn, of Bartonsville, was one of four graduate students selected by the American Farm Economics Association to present papers this week at the group's annual meeting.

The sessions are scheduled at Asilomar Conference Grounds in California. The trip is part of the award.

Learn is completing work at Penn State University for his doctor's degree. His paper will be entitled "Estimating demand for livestock products at the farm level."

Two of the four graduate students who will present the papers are Penn Staters. The second is Milton Snodgrass, of Hartstown.

They invite anyone not a member of the Air Force Reserve to attend tonight's meeting, either to

Air Reserve To Schedule Year's Events

ALL OFFICERS of the four U.S. Air Force Reserve flights in the county are requested to attend a meeting tonight at 7:30 in the VFW Home, Stroudsburg.

Action will be taken on the schedule for the coming year, and study course materials and instructional equipment will be distributed.

The commanders of the four local units are Maj. Donald Holmgren, Flight E; Col. Harold Boston, Flight K; Capt. John Eckert, Flight K, and Capt. Joseph Kovarick, Flight B.

Many Nations Reach Accords

UNITED NATIONS, Aug. 27 (UPI)—Despite international tensions, the countries of the world are reaching more agreements with each other. The United Nations reports that treaties and other international pacts registered with it between Jan. 1 and June 15 this year fill 7,327 manuscripts pages, compared with 9,813 for all of last year.

AAA ROAD TESTS SHOW:

Blue Sunoco averages 7.67 more miles per dollar than 12 other premiums

On $3.00 worth of Blue Sunoco, test cars were driven out of town till they ran dry. They couldn't get back on $3.00 worth of any of the other premium gasolines tested. They never got home! Blue Sunoco averaged 23.0 miles farther!

These tests were conducted by the American Automobile Association in 6 cities under normal city-country driving conditions—using typical drivers in late model high-compression cars whose manufacturers recommend a premium gasoline.

Results of tests confirm, once again, the fact that Blue Sunoco is America's greatest gasoline value. Why not take advantage of it—get more miles for your gasoline dollar? Stop in at your neighborhood Sunoco dealer's today, and try a tankful of Blue Sunoco.

It's the gasoline that meets today's new higher premium octane standards and sells at regular gas price.

TEST CARS, fueled with $3.00 worth of Blue Sunoco, driven till dry. Then with $3.00 worth of other premiums, retraced same route . . . but, they never got home! AAA officials supervised fuelings and accompanied drivers every mile of the way.
